Louis Wayling is an Australian artist from Sydney, known for his exploration of nostalgic memories and life's simple beauty. His work, inspired by new experiences and personal journeys, reflects the balance between solitude and connection and his sexuality. His latest exhibition, Day Light Savings, explores a nostalgic sense of joyful experience, endless summer afternoons captured under the Australian sun. This body of work is a reminder of the real beauty of nature we are surrounded by in Australia and the good times shared among friends on a hot Sydney summers day. Wayling uses diverse mediums, from vibrant palette knife strokes to intricate line work to convey his insights and emotions. His art is a tribute to nature and everyday life, constantly evolving as he embraces discovery and self-reflection.
